Centenary Lecture - Tue 12 Mar 2024

Timothy Allen

Timothy Allen specialises largely in travel photography. Having worked on several newspapers, he later covered global stories such as the civil war in the Spice Islands of Indonesia to the intriguing subculture of The World Taxidermy Championships.

In 2009, the BBC commissioned him to work on Human Planet where he was in charge of photography.

DSLRs were beginning to shoot HD video so he created multimedia content as well as photographic stills. His work continues to include multimedia production.
